Statement:

Alaska faces fiscal challenges, but we should not panic. We need to continue to support education, health and safety. Alaska can prosper without spending the amounts of money that the current legislature is used to doing.

Alaska is a wonderful place to live; its greatest resource is the people. Invest in our people to appropriately develop the resources for the good of our state, and the future of our children and grandchildren.

All Alaskan youth should be given the educational opportunities they need to graduate high school and learn the skills needed to be productive. Adults should have the opportunity for education and training to prepare for our changing world.

We need to come together with our ideas for energy and other resources to develop them safely, thinking first of how development will affect future generations. We need a skilled labor force and ethical managers with positive, inclusive visions for our future. We need to protect the Permanent Fund.

Everyone has a part to play in making the future even brighter than the past. When I have a good job, I believe in paying my taxes. When I have access to health care and the good health it has brought me, I want others to have it. More needs to be done, and I am stepping forward. I have the responsibility to use my skills, education, ethics, patience and love of Alaska to represent my Spenard, Midtown, Taku, Campbell, Bayshore and Oceanview neighbors in the Alaska State Senate.
